

x-markets consulting – boutique consultancy for the capital markets

'Good things come in small packages': From the very beginning, this motto has guided our approach to offering superior consulting services for the capital markets. And for this reason, we aren't just the next best global player with convoluted hierarchical diagrams and charts. What we offer is flexible and cooperative boutique consulting aimed at tailoring solutions to our clients' needs. We are an international team made up of strong personalities, who have been offering professional consulting services of the highest quality to our renowned clients in the banking and exchange world since the company's establishment in 2000. We focus on strategic projects. Together with our clients, we restructure the finance sector, access new markets as well as manage all of the challenges to business operations resulting, for instance, from new regulations.

To enhance our team, we are looking for motivated young and senior professionals with ingenuity and higher-than-average comprehension skills.

We are constantly on the lookout for motivated and qualified colleagues who share our vision and are able to support our team in a variety of areas and tasks. This includes, among other things, the conception and implementation of new processes, the establishment of business and technical specifications, the planning and realisation of functional tests as well as programme and project management. In international projects, we also advise clients from emerging markets how to build and operate their own local stock exchanges and clearing houses.

Your perspectives

- x Diverse and exciting projects covering current capital markets topics
- x Independent working style
- x Immediate integration into projects with first-class support from a personal mentor
- x Solid backing from a well-rehearsed team
- x Internationally recognised continuing education programme
- x Excellent development potential and individual career planning
- x Attractive compensation package and company retirement plan
- x Excellent equipment and public transportation subsidy or parking space
- x Effective work-life balance
- x Open and cooperative company culture with flat hierarchies as well as team building in a casual atmosphere

Our expectations

In addition to a successfully completed university degree and possibly first experiences in consulting or in the capital markets industry, you will ideally also bring the following qualities:

- x Great interest in the capital markets
- x Strong analytic skills and motivation to learn and try new things
- x Openness, honesty and good communication skills
- x Eagerness to share your knowledge with other colleagues
- x Flexibility and strong commitment
- x Good verbal and written English and German language proficiency

Have we peaked your interest?

If so, we look forward to your application, preferably in electronic form.

Dr. Markus Ehrenhöfer • Head of Talent Management
x-markets GmbH • Frankfurter Straße 63-69 • 65760 Eschborn
E-Mail: recruiting@x-markets.com • Internet: www.x-markets.de Telefon: (06196) 777 - 1255 • Telefax: (06196) 777 - 1297